

Date: 2012.10.12

Activity

- Scraper soil sampling

The soil samples were collected layer by layer in the scraping plot established at hillslope of KS24 watershed (Japanese cypress or Hinoki) forest to investigate the radiocesium and SOC depth distribution over time.

Scraper soil sampling plot in hillslope Japanese cypress forest site. Soil was sampled at different time of the year as indicated in the sampling spots including today's sample.